Selection Process:

The Leadership Frisco Advisory Council (“LFAC”) may, in its sole discretion, restrict participation in the Program by, among other things, selecting participants and limiting the class size. As set forth below, Participants are selected based on both objective and subjective criteria, equally applied to all applicants. The LFAC has sole discretion in the selection of the participants and its decision is not appealable.

For each Leadership Frisco class, the LFAC strives to select participants that represent the diversity of the residents of Frisco, as well as representatives from businesses, educational institutions, professional and civic organizations, and the government of Frisco. This means many highly qualified applicants may not be immediately placed. However, the Selection Committee considers sustained interest in making their selections so we encourage you to reapply if you are not selected this year.

In addition to completing the Application, a member of the Selection Committee may contact you for a phone interview. Applicants are also invited to attend a “meet and greet” on July 23, 2026, from 6:00-8:30 PM, where you will have the opportunity to meet members of the LFAC and the Selection Committee. While attendance at the meet and greet is not required, applicants are STRONGLY ENCOURAGED to attend.

If you are unable to attend the meet and greet, please contact lf@friscochamber.com before July 20, 2026, for more information.

Structure of the Class:

The Program begins with an Opening Weekend September 18-19, 2026. This consists of:

- An Opening Session organized by Leadership Dynamics beginning at 10:00 AM on September 18, 2026;
- An introductory dinner and program the evening of September 18, 2026; and
- A “Challenge by Choice” Ropes Course, which takes place all day, September 19, 2026.

Attendance at the Opening Weekend is mandatory for all participants. The LFAC will immediately revoke your invitation to participate in the Program if you fail to attend the entirety of the three components of “Opening Weekend.”

Participants are also required to attend monthly classes, usually scheduled the first or second Friday of each month, from October through May. Each class lasts for approximately eight (8) to nine (9) hours and begins at 7:30 AM, unless otherwise noted. Each class focuses on different topics, including local government, education, public safety, social services, health services, regional issues, economic development, leisure and culture, as well as team building and leadership skills. Classes generally include hands-on experiences, presentations and site visits, directed by civic leaders and specialists, who are experts in their fields.

Breakfast, lunch, and snacks are donated by Frisco area businesses, organizations, and/or governmental bodies and may be served during class time. Participants with dietary restrictions should plan to provide their own food on class days as the Program cannot accommodate or ensure the food provided will meet such restrictions.

In addition to monthly class days, participants are required to attend various city and school district meetings, participate in a book study, and research and present on a city department. Participants must also participate in a class project. Development of the class project will be done outside of regular class days. Participants must commit to these attendance requirements and sign an Attendance Addendum acknowledging they understand and agree to these requirements.

To ensure the best experience for everyone, we ask participants to be fully present and engaged during class sessions. Our speakers dedicate significant time and effort to share their expertise and giving them our full attention is a sign of respect for both them and your fellow classmates. We recognize the days are long and that work and personal responsibilities continue, so we’ve intentionally built periodic breaks into the schedule to allow time to check phones, return calls, and catch up as needed. When sessions are in progress, we encourage phones to be silenced and set aside so everyone can remain focused and get the most value from the experience.

On February 15-16, 2027, we do have plans to travel to Austin for Capitol Day. We do have an overnight stay planned, however, only Tuesday, February 16, 2027 is a mandatory class day. If you plan to travel both ways on Tuesday, please plan for this day to start at approximately 5:00 AM and run through 9:00 PM. More details will follow.

Attendance:

As stated above, your attendance on Friday, September 18, 2026, and Saturday, September 19, 2026, for the Opening Session and Retreat is mandatory. After these events, participants may miss up to fifteen (15) hours of class time and still be eligible to graduate from the Program, as set forth in the Attendance Addendum. There are no exceptions to the attendance requirements.
